

CANCER CARE

Providing members with access to the highest quality cancer care

Cancer is now the leading condition driving employer healthcare spend, with costs expected to surge up to 34% by 2030<sup>1</sup>. Double-digit annual growth rates in costs for employers requires a direct focus on how treatment is paid for and delivered.

Financial toxicity compounds this problem, as cancer patients face a high risk of defaulting on mortgages, needing to choose between medical bills and essential expenses, and facing bankruptcy — people diagnosed with cancer are 2.65x more likely to file for bankruptcy<sup>2</sup>. The administrative burden on patients is overwhelming—managing paperwork, insurance issues, and appointments while battling cancer is exhausting. In addition, while getting top-quality care leads to better outcomes, it's hard for patients to know which doctors are the best. By focusing on these specific problems, we aim to make the cancer treatment experience better for employers and their members.

Carrum Health has the answer.

Our value-based treatment programs are the first of their kind and make available everything members need: access to expert cancer teams, comprehensive treatments, complete care coordination, and on-demand physical and emotional support for the duration of care. The focus is on providing a seamless, patient-centered experience with all necessary services and support integrated into a single contract. We are addressing the issues commonly faced at the source with a better treatment model that delivers cost predictability, local access, and a greater chance for successful patient outcomes. Carrum Cancer Care includes treatment for nearly all cancer types, supported by a network of over 400 facilities nationwide.
